

I, Colin Reuter, should be on the NEBRA board for the following reasons:

- 1) I've raced 30 bike races or more every year in New England for the last 10 years, across all three disciplines, so I have a lot of experience participating in the New England racing scene in its current form.
- 2) I promote three races a year, using three different sanctioning bodies (USAC, EFTA, Unsanctioned), so I have exposure to almost all promoter concerns.
- 3) I started two websites (crossresults and road-results) because I like cycling results, data and analysis. Many features on them have been so successful that they were more or less copied verbatim on USACycling.org.
- 4) I'm the lead programmer at BikeReg, so I spend all day long with my finger on the pulse of New England events and think about online event registration more than anyone ever should.

My long term vision for New England cycling is to keep it awesome, and I think I have a unique set of experiences and skills to help an institution like NEBRA understand and shape the racing landscape.
